Red Victory Reported In East German Balloting

BERLIN, Oct. 16—(AP)—The Communist government of East Germany announced today it had been confirmed in power by 12,088,745 votes against 51,187 invalid and opposition votes.

"Our people have shown unanimity and determination never before witnessed in the world," exulted Communist Interior Minister Karl Steinhoff in announcing the totals of yesterday's election.

Canton Suffers In Bus Strike

Drivers Vote Sunday
For Better Pay Hike

CANTON, Oct. 16—(AP)—Canton's 34,000 bus riders had to find other ways to get to work today. The third transportation strike here in four years was in progress.

Federal conciliators and Mayor Thomas H. Nichols had tried to avert the walkout by appealing for further wage talks between Canton City Lines, Inc. and the AFL-Bus Drivers and Mechanics union.

But at 2:45 a. m. yesterday the unionists voted "overwhelmingly" to strike for a better raise in pay than the seven cents an hour hike offered by management with a promise of three cents more next year.

Minimum pay for drivers now is $1.37 and for mechanics $1.57 an hour. They were asking for 25 cent boosts.

The strikers say they are well prepared for a prolonged walkout. The AFL-International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers have promised them financial support.

City council has passed a measure hiking bus fares slightly. However, Mayor Nichols refused to sign. He said he wanted the firm to settle its "labor troubles" first.

In 1947, the bus unionists won a 16 cent wage increase after a 47-day strike. Last year, after a three-day tieup, they were granted five cent boosts.

Truman Drafts Speech As He Leaves Pacific

President On Radio
Tuesday Night After
MacArthur Meeting

HONOLULU, Oct. 16—(AP)—President Truman was flying back to the mainland today to report on his meeting with General MacArthur on Wake island as world capitals still puzzled over the significance of that Pacific rendezvous.

The President's plane "Independence" left Hickam field, Honolulu, for San Francisco at 6:28 a. m. (11:28 a. m. Salem time), and the "Dewdrop," carrying his top advisers, departed five minutes later. The flight to San Francisco requires about nine hours.

Aides said the President is devoting extraordinary time and care to the major foreign policy address he will make in San Francisco at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday (11:30 p. m. Salem time).

While he will preface his talk with a reference to his conference with General MacArthur on the barren Far Pacific island as a move to help the Far East find peace, there has been no indication that the President will elaborate greatly on the Wake island statement.

The statement, signed by the President and initialed by the United Nations supreme commander, followed their less than three hours talk.

Actually, the most important phase of it was the hour Mr. Truman and General MacArthur spent alone in the living room of a quonset hut before they went into conference with military and diplomatic advisers.

The statement gave no hint of any far reaching new decisions such as many had speculated might grow out of the spectacular 14,000 mile round trip flight.

In fact, one top White House policy adviser said Mr. Truman primarily "wanted to talk to General MacArthur face to face" about Far East problems and added: "After all, he had never seen the general and thought he should."

Mr. Truman will complete the final draft of his Tuesday talk at the Fairmont hotel in San Francisco where he will spend Monday night.

Mr. Truman was reported anxious to build up strong American support for the spending necessary to keep defense appropriations moving after the Korean emergency ends and to rehabilitate and reconstruct Korea as an example to all the Far East that the United States and its associates want only peace and stability for the world.

That though will underline not only his San Francisco talk but the one he will make to the United Nations general assembly in New York on Oct. 24.

The Ministry of Interior, whose black-boated "people's police" guarded all polling stations, claimed there was not one case of "disturbance" yesterday.

Draft Board Fumbles Doctor Registration

The Columbiana county draft board, in a belated announcement, today advised eligible physicians, dentists and veterinarians to register for the army draft.

Registration headquarters at the Memorial building will be open until 5 p. m. By the time most doctors know about it, however, the office will be closed.

Dewey Backs Ike For President

N. Y. Governor Takes Himself Out of Race

NEW YORK, Oct. 16—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey called yesterday for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as the Republican nominee for president in 1952.

"If I should be re-elected governor and have influence with the New York delegation, I would recommend to them that they support General Eisenhower for president if he would accept the draft," Dewey said.

Speaking here over the NBC television program, "Meet The Press," Dewey again took himself out of a third White House race in the most emphatic terms.

He praised Eisenhower as "a very great world figure, the president of Columbia university, one of the greatest soldiers in our history, a fine educator—a man who really understands the problems of the world."

Dewey, who is running for a third term as governor after first denying he would be a candidate, was asked by Leo Egan of the New York Times if he might likewise change his mind on the presidency in 1952. Dewey has said repeatedly he would not seek the 1952 nomination, after his national defeats in 1944 and 1948.

The general has repeatedly denied presidential ambitions.

Lausche, Ferguson Here On Oct. 25

Governor Frank J. Lausche will make his only Columbiana County appearance of his campaign at Lisbon and Salem on Wednesday, Oct. 25.

Attorney Louis Tobin of East Liverpool, county Democratic chairman, said Mr. Lausche will speak from the courthouse steps between 1 and 1:30, and at the Salem City Hall at 2:30. He will come from Carrollton.

Joseph Ferguson, candidate for the U. S. senate, will be in the county the same day, but his itinerary has not been completed, Mr. Tobin said.

It was announced last week that Mr. Ferguson would speak at Salem High school in the evening.

Sly Thieves Steal Motorless Car

Kenneth Hooker of 392 S. Ellsworth ave is probably wondering today if thieves who victimized him may have developed a new fuel to propel a motorless car.

Mr. Hooker parked his automobile on Filbert st at the rear of the Hub tavern Saturday afternoon to do some repair work on the motor. He removed the engine and other parts of the motor and left the car at 5 p. m. Returning at 9:40 p. m. Sunday, he discovered that the machine had vanished.

Police, who are just as mystified as Mr. Hooker, said today that none of the garages in the city had towed away the car which was described as a 1940 tan Chevrolet two-door sedan, bearing license plates M875D.

Catholic Charities Carries On Welfare Work Locally

DURING 1949 a total of 102 cases, representing a variety of problems involving many different types of work, received attention through Catholic Charities bureau. Of this total over 45 per cent of the work was with residents of Salem.

Cases range from those that last over a period of years to those that are just for several months.

In a recent family situation where a father died and the mother became ill and required sanatorium care, Catholic Charities bureau had to place the five children in family institutions. The children entered foster homes where they were under the agency's supervision. Eventually the mother was able to re-establish the home and the children were returned to their own home, but supervision was continued until the family seemed able to manage alone.

Then, there is the ever-present case of the child who has begun to be socially maladjusted and has difficulty in his home and school. Since all indications point to the child soon becoming involved with the civil authorities, he was removed from his own home and placed in a protective school where he would receive closer supervision and encouragement to work out his own difficulties. Later, this child could return to his own home to start life anew.

However, every effort is made to keep a child in his own home. Through family welfare, case work service removal of children from their homes is often necessary. This often means supplementing the family income until such time as other arrangements are made.

Catholic Charities bureau also helps adults who are having a hard time meeting life on even

Major Battle For N. Korea Capital Expected Soon

TOKYO, Oct. 16—(AP)—Two Allied spearheads smashed today toward the flatland approaches of Pyongyang in an armored race for the Red Korean capital.

The last major battle of the war may be close at hand. There was a growing belief in Tokyo military circles that the war would end in a few weeks. But a long mopping-up period may follow.

Racing for the Red capital were the U. S. First Cavalry division—the first into Manila in World War II—and the South Korean First Division.

The Americans battled through stubborn resistance Monday in a 12-mile thrust to Sinmak, 46 air miles southeast of Pyongyang. The South Koreans, paced by American tanks, reached Suan, 40 air miles southeast of the Communist capital.

Both forces were thrusting through North Korea's mountain backbone which shields Pyongyang on the south and east. But it was a torn and dented shield. Field reports indicated the Red remnants were crumbling rapidly. Resistance was fierce in spots, but

See War's End In Few Weeks

Capture Of Pyongyang
May End Hostilities

TOKYO, Oct. 16—(AP)—Military circles here speculate generally that the Korean war will be over in a matter of weeks. They expect that major fighting will end after United Nations forces drive into the North Korean Communist capital of Pyongyang. Spearheads were within 40 miles of that city today.

A slow and perhaps lengthy cleanup campaign to eliminate holdout fragments of the North Korean Red army probably will continue after the close of the main military operation.

Tokyo circles have been optimistic as to a quick end of the fighting since the Sept. 15 landing at Inchon pulled apart the Communist army. This opinion has been voiced repeatedly by field commanders who have said the North Koreans definitely are beaten.

Pyongyang is considered here to be the last major military and political objective of the United Nations overland offensive. But its expected capture probably will not mark the highwater mark of the allied drive northward.

How close the chase will take allied troops to the explosive Manchurian and Siberian borders is not known.

There is little expectation in Tokyo that any important Soviet or North Korean officials will be found in Pyongyang.

President Truman Sunday reiterated earlier statements that American troops would be withdrawn from Korea as soon as possible after the fighting ends. This in itself will be a prolonged and complicated operation and probably will take months to complete.

2 Pennsylvania Men Fined For Fighting

Two Pennsylvania men were fined by Mayor Harry M. Vincent today on disorderly conduct and intoxication charges.

Harry P. Weigle, 24, of Freedom was fined $20 and cost and Homer L. Wilson, 26, of Rochester was fined $15 and cost.

The pair was arrested at 1 a. m. today for fighting in front of the Squire Shop on E. State st. Police said a car owned by Joyce Wilson of 121 Hawley ave, which was parked near the scene, was damaged by the pair.

James R. Berger, 26, of 317½ E. Fourth st was fined $10 and cost by Mayor Vincent today on a reckless operating charge. He was cited by police on E. State st at 12:35 a. m. today.

George Wilson, 39, of Pittsburgh forfeited a $20 bond for his non-appearance in the mayor's court today to face a similar charge.

AP Correspondent Jack MacBeth, with the South Koreans, said they "broke into a run" for Pyongyang after charging into Suan.

The U. S. Cavalry troopers ran into their toughest fight two miles north of Namchonjon, about 10 miles southeast of Sinmak and 12 miles north of captured Kumchon.

Although the South Korean column was closest to Pyongyang, it was fighting along a winding mountain road. The First Cavalry was banging up the longer main rail and highway route. Its next main objective is Sariwon, 27 road miles west of Sinmak and 33 miles south of Pyongyang.

Two other columns were driving toward Pyongyang from more distant points. The U. S. 24th division hit from the south and the Republic of Korea (ROK) Third division from the east. The ROKs moved along a road twisting across the peninsula from Wonsan on the east coast.

It was the first time the 24th division had been reported in action since it swept up "heart-break highway" from the old Pusan beachhead to recapture Taejon, in South Korea.

Units of the 24th division, flown to Korea from placid occupation duty in Japan, were the first Americans hurled against the Red juggernaut after the June 25 invasion of the South Korean republic. The 24th fought a series of bitter withdrawals. It bought valuable time with blood.

The 24th Division entered Yonan, just south of parallel 38 and 50 miles northwest of Seoul, after a bitter fight. Either the Reds were confused or sought the safety of imprisonment because they fled south toward certain encirclement.

Elsewhere, the only escape for the North Koreans appeared to be north of Pyongyang, on the west coast, and north of Hungnam, on the east coast. The latter is on the heavily bombed road to Manchuria and Soviet Siberia.

The South Korean capital division was moving northward along that east coast route from captured Yonhung, 30 miles north of Wonsan. Yonhung is 30 miles south of Hungnam, big chemical center.

In the central sector of the front slanting across the peninsula, the South Korean Eighth division seized Koksan after an 18-mile thrust in 12 hours. Koksan is 50 air miles southeast of Pyongyang.

South of parallel 38, ROK troops overwhelmed a large guerrilla force that swooped down from the hills into the east coast port of Samchok.

The mop-up continued elsewhere in South Korea. General MacArthur's headquarters reported a total of more than 65,000 prisoners.

Low overcast skies limited to only 30 the close support sorties of U. S. Fifth Air Force fighters and bombers. The air force summary reported 150 enemy casualties. B-29s flew over the clouds and used radar to hit rail bridges north of Pyongyang and targets at Chongjin.

Grand Theater To Get Front

$10,000 Project
To Begin This Week

Another State st business establishment will receive an extensive face-lifting. Plans for the complete rejuvenation of the front of the Grand theater have been finished and workmen are to start this week on the $10,000 project.

The present marquee, which will be dismantled and a new one erected, will feature Broadway-style lighting with a brilliantly-lighted bill of fare.

The box office will be torn out and the outside lobby remodeled. A modernistic porcelain enamel front will be erected and a new box office installed.

The display frames which list coming attractions will be replaced with special metal and glass frames.

Poblocki & Sons of Milwaukee, Wisc., have been awarded the contract for the project. The Novelty Scenic Studios of New York will install a new traveler curtain at this time.

Manager N. I. Walken said other interior improvements will be made in connection with the remodeling program.

The Wiggers Sales and Service addition estimate carried the high value of the two building permits issued last week by Mayor Harry Vincent.

The $5,000 white glazed brick and concrete block structure will be constructed in front of the present west wing of the building, extending 30 feet towards the street across the 60-foot frontage. The room will be used primarily for servicing operations.

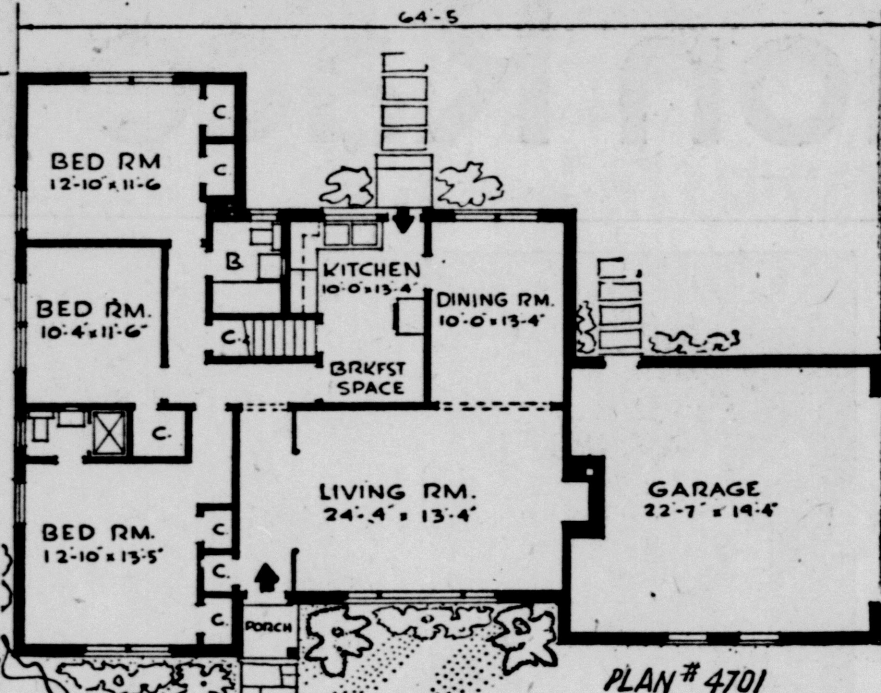

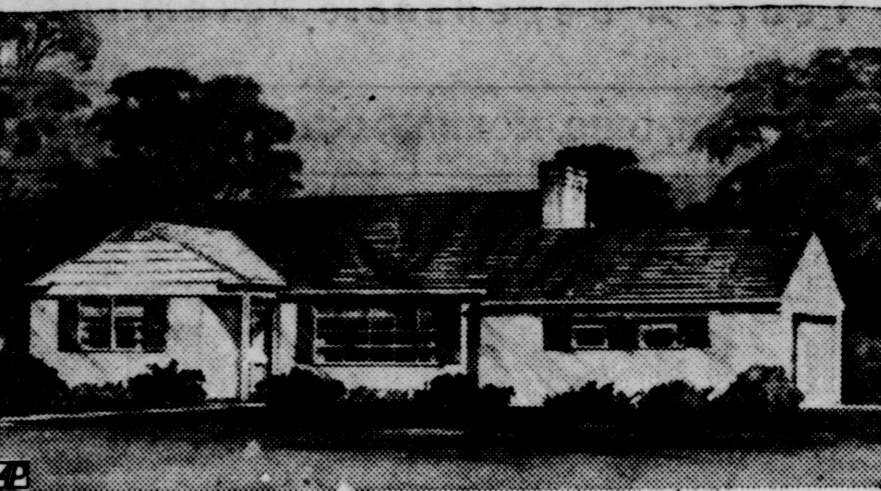

In connection with the building program the drive to the used car lot behind the building, and the 65 by 75-foot lot itself will be blacktopped.

Matt Hans holds the contract for the construction work. Work will get under way next week and will be completed in mid-November.

A permit also was issued to Mrs. A. L. Whinnery for the construction of a $600 two-car garage at 894 E. Pershing st. Concrete block will be used.

For Economical Construction

COMFORTABLE LIVING is featured in this perfectly rectangular plan. Although the house has three bedrooms it covers an area of only 852 square feet exclusive of garage. With a full basement the house has a content of 17,040 cubic feet. The house measures 36 by 23 feet, 8 inches. This is Plan B-5008 by Alwin Cassens, Jr., 116-55 Queens Blvd., Forest Hills, N. Y.

Economists' Optimism Noted Despite Credit Controls

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Economists are finding some grounds for optimism in the government's mortgage credit program despite the severity of the regulations on consumers.

This feeling, noted among the government experts, definitely is not shared by the industry although some leaders are "encouraged" by the possibility of realization of the restrictions.

For one thing, federal officials are convinced 1951 production will total about 800,000 units, barring no world war. This anticipation is supported by:

1. The huge volume of housing applications received by the government before controls went into effect. The Veterans Administration may have as many as 500,000 applications outstanding.
2. A belief that thousands more individuals will buy homes next year despite the credit controls and rising building costs.

Prices of new homes and existing units hit by V. A. and Federal Housing Administration control regulations may decline.

But, prices for "used" homes sold through the banks and private lending institutions not covered by the rules may stiffen further and rise.

Price developments are not yet considered a great deterrent to buying although inflation has had "serious" impact on the industry.

One government economist pointed out that price rises still have not yet equaled those experienced in the peak 1948 economic year when home production amounted to only 900,000 units.

The most liberal features of the new real estate controls were accorded veterans in conformity with the congressional mandate to the government.

VA will approve home loans on all houses started before Aug. 3. It will also grant an approval if a builder applied for an appraisal of real value on his project before Oct. 12.

Moreover, if a veteran entered into a contract with a builder for a home before Oct. 12 the loan will be approved.

On the basis of the present situation, some V. A. officials think enough loans are outstanding to keep the G. I. housing program going for about six months.

Reaction from the industry to the controls was summed up by Thomas P. Coogan, president of the National Association of Home Builders. Coogan said the regulations are "more drastic than expected and do not take into consideration the pressing need for new homes still felt by a large segment of our veterans population."

The NAHB president continued: "The controls, unfortunately, may prolong the housing shortage indefinitely. In many of our larger cities the $10,000 house is the irreducible minimum to which a livable home can be produced."

The main room in the new construction will be used for the sanctuary and rooms at the side will house Sunday School classes, according to Rev. Aaron A. Anderson. Part of the auditorium in the old section of the church also will be used for Sunday school activities.

Arthur Steinmark of Pittsburgh is the architect. Contracts for the work have not been let.

Leetonia Eagles Remodeling

Extensive Program
At Halfway Mark

LEETONIA, Oct. 16.—The extensive remodeling program for the Eagles lodge building here has passed the halfway stage with the first floor of the building open for full use.

In all, four floors of the Main st building are undergoing a complete face-lifting. The exterior of the building has received a new glass block and brick front to make it one of the most attractive in the village.

The first floor social room has an asphalt tile flooring. The second and third floors will receive a similar base. The acoustical ceiling above the first floor will be duplicated on the upper floors.

At the base of the walls in the social room is wood paneling extending three feet from the floor. Above it, to the ceiling, is a special-purpose oil base wallpaper. Cove lighting in this room utilizes latest lighting technique.

A flexible plastic curtain, which runs on tracks at the top and bottom, can seal the largest section of the room off from the bar. This room is air-conditioned.

The second floor will be used as a lounge room with pool tables and card facilities. The secretary's new office is on this level. The painting and remodeling work on this floor is incomplete.

The third floor banquet room will be the site of its first large dinner following remodeling on Nov. 9 when policemen hold their annual banquet. The lodge meeting room, the kitchen and rest rooms are situated here.

The basement is to be rejuvenated with showers and lockers installed. A storage room will be completed here. It also contains the recently installed gas furnace.

Willard & Keir are the general contractors, with the Woods company laying the flooring. Approximately $30,000 is to be spent in the remodeling program, while $3,700 is the estimated cost of fixtures, tables and chairs.

This program is viewed as one of the most sizeable steps made by the lodge in its 44 years in Leetonia.

An official grand opening will be held upon completion of the entire project, according to Lester Hisey, worthy president.

Two Actions Filed In Burial Plot Case

LISBON, Oct. 16—Myrta Biggins of Cortland and Charles Stewart of New Springfield have filed separate actions in common pleas court, seeking $5,500 and $2,675 respectively.

The actions are filed against William J. Powell, Elmer J. Powell, the Columbiana County Memorial Park Association and the Powell Realty and Development Co.

The petition states that Myrta Biggins purchased 21 lots and Stewart purchased 15 lots from the defendants in 1936 out of a 6,500 lot plot established north of East Liverpool, and that the defendants were engaged in buying and selling parcels of land for burial purposes, setting forth that they would establish a fund for continuous care.

It is charged, however, that the defendants failed to establish this fund, owing Columbiana County $4,000 in delinquent real estate taxes and being in danger of foreclosure proceedings, and that the plaintiff's lots are withholding the market value for which judgment is sought.

HOLIDAY FOR KOREA
TOKYO, Oct. 16—(AP)—The Republic of Korea will celebrate a new national holiday, United Nations Day, on Oct. 24.

Windows will close automatically when it begins to rain and open again after the rain by means of an improved device. Electric power and weather-affected controls do the job. The windows open only if the temperature outside is sufficiently high.

LEAP FOR LIFE—This spectacular photo shows 61-year-old William Ogden in mid-air as he leapt 70 feet from the roof of a cotton mill in Manchester, England, to escape flames that had trapped him. He landed in four and a half feet of water in the mill's reservoir and was hospitalized.

Crime Committee Moves Into Chicago

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16 — (AP)—The senate crime investigating committee moved out of Philadelphia yesterday, leaving behind staff members to probe deeper into rackets reportedly operating in the nation's third largest city.

The committee, headed by Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), will begin hearings at Chicago tomorrow.

The closed hearings at Philadelphia Friday and Saturday produced a dispute centering around police superintendent George F. Richardson.

Committee counsel Rudolph Halley made public a letter in which, he said, Richardson identified Harry (Nig) Rosen as one of the nation's crime kingpins.

Senator Taft's Weakness

MOST of the sizzling-hot oratory in Ohio's nationally important senatorial campaign is "sound and fury signifying nothing." That is as true of what Senator Taft says as it is of the occasional speeches his opponent is permitted to make. The reason is obvious.

This is not a campaign in which last-minute debate is going to change anyone's mind. Mr. Taft can add nothing in his own behalf that he has not been saying over and over again during his years in public life. Mr. Ferguson, on the other hand, is being kept bottled up on the sound assumption that the less he says the better.

What this is—the showdown on the national issue between the union bosses who want to be political bosses, too, and the people who do not relish the idea of union-bossed politics—is a contest between two groups of people. The contest will be decided on election day with votes, not oratory. The only reason for any oratory is to rouse voters.

Senator Taft's weakness is his lack of an organization for getting out votes which can match the combined resources of the well-heeled unions with their well-disciplined workers. Against this he has certain local Republican organizations plus the good intentions of his friends in politics, most of them unorganized. If the friends fail to perform in his behalf, they will be out-voted by his opponents. That is the grand strategy of the union bosses' campaign—to use a compact minority against a loose and half-asleep majority. It is the only way Senator Taft can be defeated.

It is three weeks before election day. There will be a lot more oratory and a lot more of the inflammatory remarks which Ferguson's backers are making, to stimulate voters on their side of the issue. But in the meantime the real windup of the campaign will be the effort to get every possible Ohioan—every Salemite—to the polls on Nov. 7.

Senator Taft can win all the arguments but unless his friends make certain they line up all his voters he can still be licked.

Mobilization Lever

THIS IS a proper occasion to remember that Franklin D. Roosevelt and his advisers were looking for an excuse to take the initiative in 1941 when Japan attacked Pearl Harbor and dissolved their dilemma.

Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, has announced a goal of 2,100,000 men under arms by next June. That would be half again as many as were under arms last June, before Korea.

There now is no ceiling on military spending. There is no resistance to selective service, calling up the National Guard, calling up the Reservist and unlimbering the Navy and the Air Force. The country is mentally prepared for economic controls to insure maximum war production.

Instead of drifting into an eventual showdown with the Soviet Union in a state of unpreparedness, the United States has set its face toward a showdown on its own, not on Russia's, terms. The government has obtained a mandate to collect higher taxes, to make a clean break with the whole concept of appeasement and to enjoy the prerogatives of emergency leadership.

There has been a transformation without precedent and with no declaration of war. For those who never have been satisfied with any of the other reasons advanced for the sudden decision to defend Korea, the Truman administration's need for a mobilization lever to move the nation off dead-center is worth considering.

For Dramatic Effect

THE Truman-MacArthur meeting, whatever it produces, has been a high spot in the news of 1950. But it could have been a higher spot.

President Truman could have announced that he was going to meet Gen. MacArthur in what may be either the 49th or the 50th state—Alaska. He could have dramatized the thing most likely to materialize if American misgivings about Russian intentions are well-founded.

The distance between Alaska and Siberia is only the width of Bering straits—less than 30 miles. In the event of trouble with Russia, Alaska would be the first line of defense. It is likely there would be immediate and momentous military action on the American continent.

All of which would be dramatized by a heavily-publicized meeting of key minds, such as the meeting between the President and the United Nations commander in Korea. There might be an additional benefit if Mr. Truman retains any inclination to go along with the State Department thesis of a few months ago, that the United States has no lack of room for territorial retreat, Alaska would correct that, too.

Their City Again

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

Washingtonians Relax Each Fall

PERMANENT citizens of this community like to feel that sovereignty of the city reverts to them for a couple of months each fall.

Big reason, of course, is that the congressmen are usually out of town. And you get a pause in the desperate sightseeing that has been going on all year.

Let it be a world capital, international sidshow, democratic madhouse or the city with the highest per capita liquor consumption in the country during winter, spring and summer. But the D. C. taxpayers like to look upon Washington as their own private back yard from about September until Thanksgiving. Fall here has about the same significance that spring does every place else.

There is evidence all over that the city has the basic elements of any average American community. In the fall, that is, you see such evidence. Your neighbor will forget that last week you lampooned his government office in a story and speak to you on the bus to work in the morning. You'll find Air Force and Navy pilots actually cordial to each other for the duration of a whole party.

INTER-OFFICE FEUDS which have been raging all year are forgotten in the common effort to get tickets to Redskins, George Washington or Georgetown football games. The boss'll sneak out for an afternoon at Laurel or Pimlico race tracks, meet a couple of his assistants there who are supposed to be home taking care of sick wives, and nothing will be said about it at the office next day.

Weary Washington hostesses will let their husbands have some of the boys in for pinocchio of an evening. You'll go through one whole meal at a good restaurant without some blustery lobbyist or congressman making a scene by demanding better space or service. You'll get a smile from a headwaiter without crossing his palm with a five-spot.

Taxi drivers will listen to what you have to say about politics.

You can ask a bus driver a question without getting a snarling, sarcastic retort. You can ask a clerk to show you a cheaper model without getting frozen out of the joint.

It's probably not the congressmen themselves who inspire the zany, weird kind of human relationships which make Washington so distinctive when they are here. Individually some of them are pretty nice gents, with good families, who could pass for normal folk under ordinary circumstances.

It's just that the mere presence of the legislative branch of this great government in town seems to make workers in the executive branch nervous, irritable and tense. On top of that you get the lobbyist and pressure groups making the legislators nervous and irritable. The result is that everybody is nervous and irritable.

AS FAR AS the hoards of sightseers who begin arriving before the first cherry blossom is seen, it's not that Washingtonians don't like them. They spend a lot of dollars, which makes the city prosperous, and they own just as many steps in the Washington Monument as any resident of Chevy Chase. It's just that it's a relief to wander through the National Gallery of Art, for instance, and not be trampled by a bunch of screaming high school kids rushing through for a fast pass at the Smithsonian, with maybe a slight pause for a quick smooch behind one of the statues.

The habits of nature tend to exaggerate the fondness Washingtonians have for their city in the fall. The story of torrid summers has been well told. From now until almost Christmas the weatherman more than makes up for the heat in beautiful, cool, sunny days. And what he does to many trees of the District and nearby Maryland and Virginia is something to behold.

If the Russians should decide to drop an atomic bomb on the capital, its citizens would be most irked if they should decide to do it in the fall.

So Much for Optimism

By TRUMAN TWILL

EVERY year just before Election Day—when the stuff peculiar to people who play politics with knives and clubs begins to fill the air—some Americans get heavy-hearted about their country's future.

If this is the best we can hope for, they say, things are going to go from bad to worse. If this brazen contempt for the rightful dignity of a free people is getting to be a way of life, the game isn't worth the shame it leaves in its wake.

But there are better things to hope for than this. Here is one citizen of a free country who believes everything is going to work out for the best—and who believes it for reasons that are in plain sight.

1. The people who play politics with knives and clubs, with the idea of turning public business into a kind of permanent terrorism, are up against something too big for them to handle in the United States. They are up against the free judgment of a population which can be fooled some of the time but so far has been fool-proof over the long pull. This country didn't survive all the previous tricks played on it by the sadistic jokers who wanted to ruin it by deceit. It rose above them by throwing them out on their ear when it caught on to what they were doing.

2. No matter how full the air gets of filth and no matter how confused the combatants get in their struggle to close in for the kill, there are many citizens who refuse to be sucked into the fracas. Their detached viewpoint is the bane of the politicians who want to get everybody so involved that nobody can think straight any more. A detached viewpoint always makes it easy to judge the combatants on their merits without trying to judge the mostly spurious issues raised in their behalf.

3. There is still such a thing in the United States as admiration for courage and fair play. This is still a country which turns thumbs down on fighters who bite in the clinches and hit an opponent whose back is turned. And by that token it also is a country which applauds overt acts of good sportsmanship and likes to see the boys shake hands when the game is over. Before the kind of politics which leaves a dirty taste in the mouth can be made a way of life in America, a lot of ordinary Americans will have to be taught to admire the very thing they and their ancestors thought they were leaving behind them in the old world.

So much for optimism. It is indispensable for people still trying to build a better civilization on the ruins of the old world's blasted hopes. The only thing to worry about is the pessimists. They are ripe for the plucking. Their heavy-heartedness is contagious. But the pessimists always have been ready to give up when the fracas got rough. Fortunately they always have been outnumbered in America, beginning with the revolution in 1776.

All may be fair in love and war, but not in politics. Politicians who fight with knives and clubs, instead of with truth, must be relieved of all responsibility for freedom. They have fouled themselves out of the game.

What You Give Makes the Difference

Exposing "The Big Lie"

By GEORGE S. BENSON

THE Communist Daily Worker lying on my desk as this column is written carries a headline story about the Communists' Madison Square Garden rally "for the Bill of Rights." A number of internationally-known Communist speakers held forth.

This Communist lip service to the cause of freedom reminds me of the recent radio speech of General Eisenhower on the occasion of the opening of the Crusade for Freedom. He labeled world Communism and Communist propaganda as "The Big Lie."

The Madison Square Garden Communist rally was called, according to the Daily Worker, to fight for individual freedom as set forth in the American Bill of Rights. The newspaper said speakers included "Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, member of the Communist party's national committee; Gus Hall, Communist party secretary; Howard Johnson, New York state Communist party educational director; Leon Wolf, youth leader," and others.

The speakers cried impassioned allegiance to the American Bill of Rights and loudly proclaimed communism's "fight for individual freedom."

A friend of mine can give eloquent reply to this New York Communist rally and its "fight for freedom." He is a Chinese gentleman whom I've known since 1930. He is a man of extraordinary intellect and unquestioned integrity. He has escaped from Communist tyranny in China to British Hong Kong which is rapidly becoming a mecca for Chinese fleeing from the friends of the Madison Square Garden speakers. Immediately upon arrival in Hong Kong, he wrote me as follows:

"I am glad to tell you that I managed to get out of China and am now in Hong Kong. Thus I am free to speak and to do what I want to. In China, people have no freedom of speaking, printing, or moving about. There, one is compelled to say that the Communist government is good but that the National government is bad; that the Russians are our friends and the Americans our enemies; that the teachings of Confucius are mere feudalism while the teachings of Marx, Lenin and Stalin are proper doctrine."

The Daily Worker on my desk says "cheers shook the house" at the Madison Square Garden rally lauding the Bill of Rights when Benjamin J. Davis, Communist functionary said: "Tonight we pay tribute to our Communist party, confident in the knowledge that it will fulfill its destiny in helping to mobilize the people into a mighty coalition for peace and freedom and in leading the fight for the establishment of socialism."

My friend in Hong Kong, an honest man, wrote: In Communist China, one is compelled to say that religion is mere superstition while materialism is absolute truth; that man comes from the lower creation and was not created by God; that God could not have made man because there is no God. Should one speak contrary to their anti-God, anti-American doctrine as indicated above, he will be imprisoned or killed."

"The Communist government takes away nearly all the rice from the farmers and leaves them very, very poor," my Chinese friend wrote. "It takes nearly all the money away from the merchants until they likewise are now very poor. Should a man be fortunate enough to have 10 picules of rice regardless of how large his family may be, he would indeed be a rich man. Individual merchants are compelled to buy quantities of government bonds in excess of their worth. The people are so miserable that not a few have committed suicide."

This then is the unimpeachable truth about the Socialism which Benjamin Davis, the Communist, says is the objective of his cohorts throughout the world—misery, poverty and despair for all except the inner bureaucracy of the party. This is the truth about communism's "fight for individual freedom"—imprisonment or death for speaking contrary to the doctrine. This is the truth about "The Big Lie."

There is great evil in a movement such as this which can attract more than 500,000 Americans to its cause, 54,000 of whom are known to have taken the Communist party induction pledge: "I pledge myself to rally the masses to defend the Soviet Union, the land of victorious socialism. I pledge myself at all times to remain a vigilant and firm defender of the Leninist line of the party, the only line that insures the triumph of the Soviet power in the United States."

Barbs

Even if we ever have another drive for scrap iron, motorists shouldn't speed or crash red lights.

A 16-year-old Ohio girl posed as being 20. Most girls don't do that until they're around 30.

Blue dress suits are still popular. We're still waiting for green to be the style, so we can bring ours out.

The easiest way to develop a double chin is to have two women meet.

In these trailer days it's no wonder some little lost tots don't know where their home is.

Supply

(For Hal Boyle)

Airlift Valuable To War

ANCHORAGE, ALASKA

A FREIGHT train in the sky over the North Pacific is helping to win the United Nations' battle in Korea. That's the best way to describe the military air transport service operation which is setting all-time airlift records in the war of supply.

It's a train that never stops rolling, a continuous supply line that depends on the guts of its pilots and the urgency of the job to be done.

With a battlefield halfway around the world there can be no waiting for the weather, no foulup of communications or shuffling of priorities.

The job is not easy. Cargo planes on the Alaska leg of the northers route arrive at Elmendorf AFB here and then head into the world's worst weather factory. For 900 miles along the volcanic Aleutian archipelago they buck fog, sleet, icing conditions, high winds and endless mist. The last stop is Shemya. A bleak installation carved out of a mountain top during the last war. Ahead is the unfriendly Pacific, Japan, Korea and the U.S.S.R.

Pilots on the route report increased radio interference by Russian jamming stations, "nuisance value" music and static that has been going on for the past two years. Off Japan their aerial route passes within 150 miles of Soviet Kamchatka.

BIRDMEN OF many lands and many uniforms pilot the big four-engined transports. The planes bear scores of insignias, representing many branches of service, several great commercial airlines, and the transport forces of several countries.

They converge on Elmendorf air force base in an almost steady stream through the day and night.

Crews are logging hundreds of hours. Some reach the "top of the list" and are taken off for rest. At such times the commercial pilots prefer Japan, where living is cheaper. The military prefer stateside lay-overs with a possibility of seeing their families. European and Canadian pilots make little sightseeing trips into Anchorage and U.S. towns, relaxing before the next tour of duty.

One hotel here has turned over two entire floors for the use of commercial pilots, on the streets people see the uniforms, hear the planes overhead, but no one asks how many pilots, how many flights, or questions about the cargo. They know that priority material and crack personnel are reaching the Korean front. They avoid rumors that might sabotage that effort.

The aerial freight through here streams out of McChord Field, Wash., and Hamilton Field, Calif. The military chain has increased facilities at Elmendorf AFB. Three key Aleutian bases scheduled for shutdown—Shemya, Adak and Cold Bay—have been held open as fuel and communication stations. The chain stretches on to various fields in Japan. Finally the precious cargo reaches Korea and the battlefield.

Battle Over Color TV Still Continues

NEW YORK, Oct. 16—(AP)—Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, said last night that television set buyers "may save some money" by waiting up to six months until manufacturers convert to the CBS color video process.

Stanton spoke over his own network in defense of Columbia's system, which has been attacked for various reasons by a large part of the industry.

Despite opposition, however, it recently won the approval of the Federal Communications Commission in a split decision.

What effect Stanton's advice would have on the TV set market—already nervous after the FCC ruling—remained to be seen.

Stanton revealed some of the contention that is sweeping the industry by disclosing that CBS has been barred from a special meeting called for today by the Radio-Television Manufacturers Association to discuss color TV.

The CBS system has been strongly opposed by the Radio Corporation of America—which is working on a method of its own—and by a majority of set makers.

German Exchange Student Visiting Friend In Salem

Charles F. Fox of Euclid st started an interesting friendship last March when he picked up a hitch-hiker while on his way to Florida. Gerd Matthecka, an exchange student from Stuttgart, Germany, was experiencing his first hitch-hiking try in this country when Mr. Fox came along.

Mr. Matthecka, who has been studying at Georgia Teachers college at Statesboro, Ga., has arrived in Salem to visit Mr. Fox. He will stay two weeks prior to returning to New York and his home in Stuttgart. Several weeks ago Gerd and Hans Brossman, another student from Ulm, Germany, visited in the Fox home here.

The boys have an interesting story to tell of their life during and since the war. Gerd's father was an investment banker in Berlin and the family fled from Berlin to Stuttgart relatives.

The Russians took over the section of Berlin in which they lived and they lost everything. Gerd was a student in the University at Tübingen, near Stuttgart, when he was selected to spend a year studying at an American college.

Both boys are being sponsored by the Rotary Foundation which provides funds for their tuition etc., and the program is under the supervision of the state department. The government provides passage to and from the United States and the Rotary Foundation does the rest.

Between the second summer term and the fall term, the Rotary Foundation provides funds for the boys to take a bus trip through the North and it was on this four-week trip that the boys visited in Salem.

Both Gerd and Hans received the highest grades obtainable at Georgia Teachers college. Gerd will return to Germany Oct. 31 and Hans will return around the end of December.

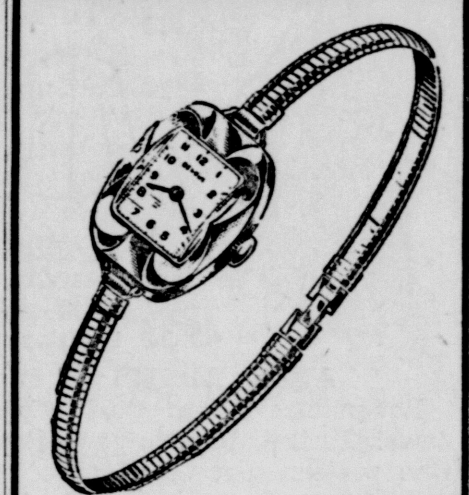

Gerd will resume his studies at Tübingen and Hans will return to his teaching work and later enter a university there for further study. Both of them had studied English in Germany and speak it well.

Hans originally came from Silesia which was a part of Germany given to Poland after the war. His parents are both physicians. The family fled to southern Germany, after losing everything.

Hans' father secured the position of prisoner doctor in the town of Ulm and Hans was teaching in an elementary school when he was chosen as one of the students to study for a year in America.

Miss Margaret Ann Redinger Married To Paul J. Horning

REV. FR. RICHARD C. GAFFNEY was the celebrant for the nuptial mass which united Miss Margaret Ann Redinger and Paul J. Horning at 10:30 Saturday morning in St. Paul's Catholic church.

Miss Sarah Colman, organist, sang "The Mass of the Angels" for the wedding of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Redinger of Warren, formerly of Salem, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Horning Sr. of Cleveland st. A recital of organ melodies preceded the ceremony.

Soloist Miss Margaret Entriken sang the offertory solo, "Ave Maria," and for the recessional sang "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother."

Flowers used at the candlelit altar were white pompons and carnations. Palms outlined the chancel setting where the couple exchanged their vows and rings before a large audience of their relatives and friends. Mr. Redinger gave his daughter in marriage.

White satin was used to fashion the bride's gown. Lace with satin flower applique styled the distinctive Peter Pan collar and the yoke-effect of the upper bodice. The front-buttoned bodice was fitted to the sweeping skirt which ended in a circular train.

The skirt had a wide insert of the same applique lace which was the fashion keynote of the bodice. The sleeves, buttoned at the wrist, were long and pointed. Her sweetheart bonnet of French illusion was in fingertip length and a band of pearled orange blossoms framed her face.

A white orchid, tipped in purple and yellow was carried on her white prayer book and stephanotis blossoms were caught-up in the satin streamers.

Miss Faye Redinger was her sister's maid of honor. Her gown of taffeta was in Nile green and the beaded tiara she wore was of the same shade. Mrs. Howard Coy, bridesmaid, appeared in an orchid gown styled identically with Miss Redinger's gown. With the taffeta of their gowns last also added a unique touch.

Lace of the same shade as the gown material was used over the taffeta in the roll collars and the same over pattern styled the off-the-shoulder trimming of the bodice.

The front of the gowns were buttoned from neckline to collar and the bouffant skirts were gathered at the waist. Yellow pompons of the daisy-type were used in the cascade bouquets the attendants both carried.

Miss Viola Marie McGaffick Bride Of Charles R. Wiggers

DUTCH SATIN AND CHANTILLY LACE were combined in the beautiful gown worn by Miss Viola Marie McGaffick for her marriage to Charles Ray Wiggers at 2 p. m. Sunday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard J. Armstrong, W. State st. Mr. Wiggers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wiggers of R. D. 3, Salem.

Tyrus Swartz played the musical prelude on the Hawaiian guitar, including "Because," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Ave Maria." For the processional he played "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin.

Rev. Richard C. Swogger, pastor of the Methodist church, heard the exchange of vows in the double-ring ceremony. White chrysanthemums in vase arrangements on drum tables formed an improvised altar before the window in the living room.

Mr. Armstrong gave his stepdaughter in marriage. The bride's gown was designed with a round neckline, fitted lace bodice and long sleeves pointed at the wrists. The skirt was completed with a cathedral train. Her finger-tip veil of silk illusion was attached to a Juliet cap of lace and seed pearls. A white orchid centered her bouquet of white roses. She wore a strand of pearls, the groom's gift.

Mrs. Harold Hutcheson was her cousin's only attendant. Her lace-trimmed taffeta gown was designed with a net yoke outlined with a bertha. The fitted bodice was attached to a hoop skirt. She wore mits to match and carried American Beauty roses. A halo of roses formed her headdress. Steve Karnofel was best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Armstrong was dressed in black crepe ornate with embroidered aqua flowers. Red roses were in her corsage. Mrs. Wiggers, the groom's mother, wore an aqua crepe dress trimmed in lace. Her corsage was of yellow mums.

'FILE 13'

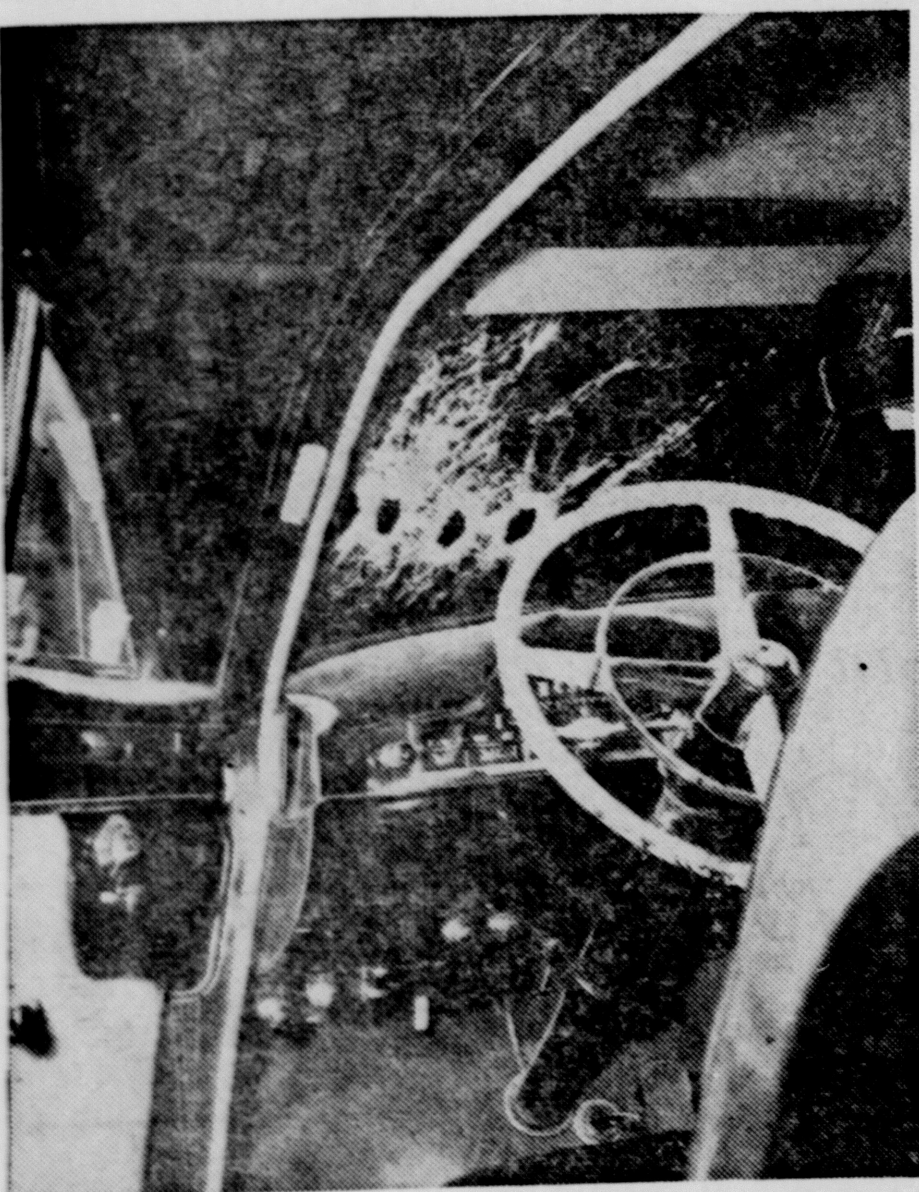

COMPENSATING for some of the ugliness are the acts of kindness and humanity that now and again lighten the hardships of war. Such is the story of "File 13," a little South Korean boy orphaned when his mother and his father, an army officer, were killed by Communists. "File 13" in the army means anything that is useless and abandoned. It seemed to Cpl. George Feldser and his buddy, Cpl. Jack Folds, of the First Cavalry that the name fitted the waif they found peering through a fence at their bivouac at Taegu. He was the hungriest, dirtiest kid they had ever seen. They adopted him on the spot, commencing acclimating him with a bath, a feed and a cut-down GI uniform, which qualified him for the post of mascot of the division. Now "File 13" is secure, a piece of flotsam salvaged from the tide of war.

Browns Whip Cards 34-24 To Lead Division

Last Quarter Rally Decisive

Change Of Tactics Helps Brown Passing

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16—(AP)—The Cleveland Browns came from behind and beat the Chicago Cardinals, 34-24, on a rally and a change of pass patterns, says Coach Paul Brown.

The coach couldn't explain the rally except to note that the Cards had been carrying on some "conversations" across the scrimmage line when they were leading him.

But he knew all about the pass pattern change. Cardinal guarding, he explained, was "very tough" against Brown receivers running towards the sidelines here yesterday. So he had his ends start crossing behind the center of the Card line and had quarterback Otto Graham start pitching up the middle of the field.

That and some rugged defensive play netted the Browns 24 points in the third and fourth quarters, more than making up the 14 markers by which Chicago had been leading.

THE WIN showed the Browns ahead of the New York Giants in the National Football League's American conference standings. The Giants, who beat Cleveland two weeks ago but lost to Pittsburgh yesterday, will meet the Browns Sunday in New York. Cleveland has won four and lost one. The Giants have won three and lost one.

Passes from Graham to Dante Lavelli produced the two touchdowns which tied the Browns with the Cards in the fourth quarter and the defensive line indirectly set up the 18-yard field goal by Lou Groza which put Cleveland ahead to stay.

Graham's first scoring pass to Lavelli was good for 29 yards. It came after a pass and a lateral from Graham to Lavelli to Marion Motley—had moved the ball from the Cleveland 16 to the Chicago 29.

The second touchdown pass caught by Lavelli was a 27-yard affair coming at the end of a 66-yard march.

Then with the score tied, Cleveland linemen forced Card quarterback Jim Hardy into a hasty pass which Ken Gorgall intercepted and ran 13 yards to the Card 19. Four plays later Groza kicked the clinching points.

The last Brown touchdown—which proved unnecessary—resulted from a 60-yard march. Motley went the last two on the ground.

It was the second time the Browns had come from behind.

MINUTES AFTER the game started the Cards had a 10-point lead as the result of a 58-yard touchdown march and a 47-yard field goal by Pat Harder.

Cleveland tied it up by going 67 yards in seven plays for a touchdown and then driving deep enough for Groza to boot a 22-yard field goal in the second quarter. The biggest chunk of yardage in the touchdown drive was the 43 gained on a pass from Graham to Motley which produced a first down on the Chicago five. Graham ran over two plays later from the seven.

Then Chicago got two more touchdowns. The Cards moved 77 yards for one, aided by a 15-yard penalty and a pass interference called against Cleveland's Hal Herring. The interference moved the ball from the Cleveland 40 to the 13 from where Elmer Angsman ran out a first down on the one and Harder stormed over shortly before the half ended.

Hardy passed 36 yards to Bob Shaw for the other one.

After that Cleveland rallied and changed its pass patterns.

The only Clevelander seriously injured was end Len Ford. He suffered a banged up nose and the loss of three teeth a minute before the game ended.

OKLAHOMA'S LEON "Mule Train" Heath drives to the four yard line before being brought down by oncoming Texas tacklers, Jack Barton (16) and Richard Ochoa (55) in the first quarter before 76,000 fans at Dallas' Cotton Bowl. The Sooners went on to beat a favorite Texas team 14-13 and run their winning streak to 24 straight games.

Army, Oklahoma Seem Safe For This Season

NEW YORK, Oct. 16—(AP)—Army and Oklahoma were over the big humps in their schedules today and headed toward new perfect seasons that would provoke a hot dispute over the national football championship.

Southern Methodist, the other member of the college sport's terrific trio, faces a lot of possible lumps in a conference that prides itself on knocking over the favorite.

As a starter, the Mustangs meet the defending southwestern champion, Rice, Saturday night in Houston. The unbeaten, untied Owls, who smothered SMU, 41-27, last year, could do it again.

Meanwhile, Army's Black Knights, having mauled Michigan, 27-6, with an awesome display of might, should expect no trouble until they run against Stanford Nov. 18 in the next-to-last game of the season.

PENNSYLVANIA comes up Nov. 4 for the West Pointers but the Quakers should offer little resistance for Earl Blaik's powerful, hard-hitting team. Army will meet de-emphasizing Harvard Saturday.

Oklahoma, 14-13 last gasp winner over Texas in Dallas' Cotton Bowl, has no other assignment that looks anywhere near as tough. Kansas, an old Big Seven rival, could prove cantankerous Nov. 11 as could Oklahoma A. and M. in the final game. Kansas State furnishes the opposition this week.

Both Army and Oklahoma are working on modern football's fanciest streaks of invincibility.

The Sooners have won 24 straight games—tops in the land. The Cadets have gone 23 games without a setback but a couple of ties have been sandwiched in.

Swinging into the last half of October, here's how sectional strength measures up, in approximate order:

East — Army, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Princeton.

Midwest — Oklahoma, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Wisconsin.

South — Kentucky, Vanderbilt, Clemson, Maryland, Texas, Tennessee.

Southwest — Southern Methodist, Rice and Texas.

Far West — California, Stanford, Washington.

OF THESE, all are unbeaten and untied except Penn. Notre Dame, Ohio State, Maryland, Texas and Tennessee, which have dropped a game apiece.

Army, voted the nation's No. 1 team last week after the fall of Notre Dame, got its best test in the game with aroused Michigan at Yankee Stadium.

For more than a half the future generals were played off their feet but, with sophomore fullback Al Pollard in the most damaging role, they struck for three touchdowns in five minutes.

Stella Loop of McCulloch's led the entire league, however, with a 528 set. The only other hot kegler was Julia Ellis of Parker's, who had 514.

DAILY DOZEN By Bob Dixon

•Bill Veeck, the flamboyant ex-president of the Cleveland Indians, is the topic of today's piece. He was the subject of a surprising story by Frank Gibbons of the Cleveland Press the other day.

•According to Gibbons, Veeck is deeply interested in buying the St. Louis Browns. Of course, Bill plans to move the franchise to Milwaukee or Los Angeles if he gets it.

•But the punch line of the story was that if Veeck gets the Browns and if the Indians no longer want Lou Boudreau, Veeck is willing to install him as his manager.

•Gibbons points out that this is the same Veeck who tried to peddle Boudreau in early 1948, the same guy who couldn't get along with Lou.

•The new angle is something of a shock until it is remembered that Veeck is a man who delights in shockers. Then, too, he always disliked the defeat of not being able to form an amiable working agreement with Boudreau. He'd like to try once again with the boy manager.

•Veeck is currently cleaning up his baseball past by settling out of court a stockholders' suit filed against him by Cleveland Jack Harris, who had opposed the sale of the Indians. The settlement price is believed to be around $100,000.

•The Indians probably will settle the Boudreau question within the month. The official "line" on the debate is not known. Lou could go or stay, with no great surprise either way.

•The Indians would surely dump Boudreau if they could wage Tommy Henrich away.

Cards May Announce Dyer's Release Today

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 16—(AP)—The question of whether Eddie Dyer continues as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals probably will be answered today.

Fred Saigh, owner of the Cardinal baseball club, has called a press conference at noon. He declined to disclose the nature of his announcement but there was little doubt it had to do with Dyer.

Dyer who lives in Houston, Tex., took over as manager in 1946, succeeding Billy Southworth. He produced a pennant winner that year and piloted the Cards to second place in the National League three straight years. Last season, however, the Cards were dumped ingloriously into fifth place.

Observers say if Saigh planned to retain Dyer he would have so announced before the close of last season. But Saigh remained mum.

Two triple A managers have been mentioned as possible successors to Dyer.

They are Rollie Hemsley, whose Columbus club in the American Association won the Little World Series, and Johnny Keane, manager of Rochester in the International League.

This Macaroni Dish Will Fit Into Most Diets

MACARONI, spaghetti and noodles are valuable providers of protein along with their energy-giving carbohydrates. The fact that they are not "fattening" seems to be hardly known at all.

These days it is recognized that almost every food has a place in the diet. Most foods can even have a welcome place in a diet designed to take off weight. A good diet, whether it be for a normal person, an overweight person or an underweight person must: Supply adequate amounts of the necessary food nutrients; supply the proper "fuel value," that is, calories, proportionately more for the underweight, fewer for the overweight; appeal to the eye and taste; satisfy the appetite; satisfy hunger, and contain a combination of food elements, which will help prevent quick recurrence of hunger.

Chicken tetrazzini with macaroni makes a contribution to each of these "musts." Quick-cooking packaged macaroni adds only a modest count to the diet when served with simple, basic foods, such as lean meat, seafoods, eggs, poultry and cheese. Rich sauces and dressings increase the total calorie count.

Want a long run for your money?

Better Buy Buick!

YOU want a new car to be tops in things like style and room and comfort and power——and a thrill-packed fifteen minutes with the nimble number pictured here will show you it has all these things in abundant measure.

So you ask us—how about money? What does it cost to buy a Buick—and to own one?

All right—let us ask you some questions.

Take first cost. Do you know that Buick prices start down at a level below what you'd pay for some sixes—and that every Buick, on a cents-per-pound basis, is a standout buy?

Take operating cost. Do you know that the bang you'll get from Buick's Fireball power comes from a valve-in-head engine—recognized by engineers as a thrifty saver of fuel?

Do you know that owners of 1950 Buicks are writing us rave letters, saying that this year's version is the most economical Buick ever built?

Do you know that such comfort features as coil springs on all four wheels protect the car as well as the passengers—and throw in an extra saving because they need no servicing, and are practically breakproof to boot?

Do you know that Dynaflo*—in addition to keeping you fresh as a daisy on a day-long drive—caps its convenience with savings on tires, cuts down the strain on transmissions and engines—and eliminates all friction clutch repairs, because it hasn't any?

Take final cost. Do you know that when the owner of a Buick gets a yen for a later model, the prices that Buicks command on a used-car lot are the ultimate proof of their long-run value?

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

So if you want a real run for your money, better buy Buick. And the first step is very simple: Go see your Buick dealer—soon—and get an order signed.

School Elects Debate Team

Salem High school debaters this year will argue on the evils of the socialistic state. Final tryouts will be held this week, with 18 aspirants competing for positions on the 1950-51 teams by giving a short speech, Debate Coach J. E. Guiler said today.

Passing the first tryouts were: Ray Pearson, David Bush, Charles Jones, Mary Katherine Whitehill, Mary Unger, Jenny Hannawalt, Jane Myers, Nancy Zeck, Richard Journey, Joan Petras, Nora Guiler, Louise Bauman, Joel Sharp, Sandy Hansell, Stacy Paparodis, Gayle Hanna, Barbara Pederson and Sally Risbeck.

"CHARLEY'S AUNT" has been selected as the senior class play and tryouts for the cast got underway this week, with Miss Irene Weeks, dramatics coach, in charge. The three-act comedy will be staged Nov. 16 and 17 in the High School auditorium.

OFFICERS for the freshman class were nominated during homeroom periods today. Nominees will give campaign speeches in a frosh assembly and voting will take place Thursday.

MEMBERS of three high school choruses, totaling 188 singers will hold their annual magazine sale starting late this month. Thomas Crothers, director of vocal music in the Salem school system, said the proceeds will finance the purchase of new robes, music and risers for the auditorium.

New officers of the advanced chorus are: President, James Coscare; vice president, Darrell Askey; secretary-treasurer, Jenny Taffan; and librarian, Janet Lehman.

terms, the aged or the physically handicapped. Services to residents of Salem has resulted in 11 children being placed in families through the bureau.

In order to receive attention through the bureau it is not necessary for a family or individual to present a certain type of problem. Anyone regardless of age, condition or type of problem can expect to find their troubles listened to. Relief giving is not a function of the Catholic Charities bureau; however, the service of the agency has a money value in a service sense through protection of the family life.

New Indian Mound Found By Collectors

WASHINGTON, C. H. Oct. 16—(AP)—A committee of Indian relic collectors today expressed belief that a large earth formation near Morrow in Warren County is an authentic serpent mound built by Indians for worship purposes.

The committee viewed the 1300-foot formation yesterday at the request of the Ohio Indian Relic Collectors' Society.

B. E. Kelley, state editor of the Washington C. H. Record-Herald and a member of the society's committee, said some archeologists had questioned whether the formation actually was a serpent mound. Some believed it was merely an earthwork for burial or other purposes.

Kelley said the committee would recommend that the state take over the mound and preserve it possibly in a park. It is located off Route 3, west of Morrow, on the farm of Larry Schuchter.
